Section 14: Declaration

Your duty of disclosure

Before you enter into a life insurance contract, you have a duty to tell the insurer anything that you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, may affect their decision to insure you and on what terms.

You have this duty until the insurer agrees to insure you.

You have the same duty before you extend, vary or reinstate the contract.

You do not need to tell the insurer anything that:

- reduces the risk they insure you for; or
- is common knowledge; or
- they know or should know as an insurer; or
- they waive your duty to tell us about.

If you do not tell us something

In exercising the following rights, the insurer may consider whether different types of cover can constitute separate contracts of life insurance. If they do, they may apply the following rights separately to each type of cover.

If you do not tell the insurer anything you are required to, and they would not have insured you if you had told them, they may avoid the contract within 3 years of entering into it.

If the insurer chooses not to avoid the contract, they may, at any time, reduce the amount you have been insured for. This would be worked out using a formula that takes into account the premium that would have been payable if you had told them everything you should have. However, if the contract has a surrender value, or provides cover on death, the insurer may only exercise this right within 3 years of entering into the contract.

If the insurer chooses not to avoid the contract or reduce the amount you have been insured for, they may, at any time vary the contract in a way that places them in the same position they would have been in if you had told them everything you should have. However, this right does not apply if the contract has a surrender value or provides cover on death.

If your failure to tell the insurer is fraudulent, they may refuse to pay a claim and treat the contract as if it never existed.

I declare that I:

- agree to be bound by the terms of cover set out in this application form and I have read and understood the Rest Super Insurance Guide
- have carefully considered all the questions and all answers provided are true and correct
- have read and understand the duty of disclosure above and I have not withheld any information that may affect the Insurer's decision as to whether to accept my application
- have read and understand TAL's Privacy Policy available at <https://www.tal.com.au/Privacy-Policy> and Rest's Privacy Policy available at rest.com.au and agree that the Trustee and/or the Insurer may use my personal information for the purposes described
- understand that my request for cover or request to vary my cover (whichever is applicable) will not commence until the Insurer accepts it and Rest advises me in writing
